Investors Bank Adds Business Lending VP Focusing on Central/South Jersey Middle Markets

ROBBINSVILLE, New Jersey – Investors Bank is expanding its business lending in middle markets with the addition of a new executive. Janice A. Mills, CFP[®], has been named Vice President, Business Lending, based in the bank’s Robbinsville office.

“We are very happy that Janice has decided to join the Investors team,” said Erik Larsen, Investors Vice President/Team Leader for Business Lending. “We look forward to Janice growing our presence in the middle market area in our key markets of Mercer, Burlington, Camden and Gloucester counties.”

Mills has been a member of the central New Jersey banking community for more than 30 years, most recently with Santander Bank, where as a Relationship Manager, she managed a middle market portfolio and new business development. She held relationship management positions with PNC and Summit banks, where she concentrated on business and commercial banking, particularly Middle Market lending. A Certified Financial Planner, Mills also was Vice President of Wealth Management at Wachovia Bank, with an emphasis on serving corporate executives and business owners.

Mills completed the Financial Planning Program from the New College of General and Continuing Studies at Farleigh Dickinson University. She completed the CFP[®] in 2004; it has been renewed by the Board of Standards through November 2015. She earned a B.A. in Spanish with a concentration in International Trade from the State University of New York College at Oswego.

A resident of Lawrenceville, Mills is a member of the Financial Planning Association of New Jersey and the Executive Women’s Golf Association.
